

FALL 2022 NEWSLETTER

A LETTER FROM THE CEO

There's a chill in the air as the end of the year grows near, and I like to look at the cooler months as an opportunity to cool down and reflect on all that we have accomplished over the year. Where are we, where do we want to go, and how will we get there?

This year alone, we've opened doors to new opportunities. Even through the tough times, you knew our doors were always open. At the end of the day, it all comes down to being there for people and providing them with what they need.

In the last stretch of 2022, we hope you seize the opportunity not only to walk through open doors but to look on to the journey ahead. Be thankful for what you already have, but never stop pushing for more. You deserve it. And we'll continue to be here through every season.

- Kevin Scott, CEO/President
